

My experience working with Doru and Onyx Elite Business Consulting has been transformative for Global Legacy Capital. As our vision and business continued to evolve, it became increasingly important that our operational infrastructure was as intentional and scalable as the vision itself. Doru has been instrumental in helping us build that foundation.

What separates Doru is his ability to quickly understand not only the business, but also the larger vision, leadership philosophy, and long-term direction of the organization. He brings a rare combination of strategic intelligence, operational discipline, strong communication, and an understanding of human behavior and organizational psychology.

Our work with Onyx Elite has gone far beyond traditional consulting advice. Doru has helped us develop clearly defined standard operating procedures, key performance indicators, contracts, workflows, organizational structures, accountability systems, and role clarity—turning ideas and expectations into documented, measurable, and executable systems.

There is a significant difference between having a successful business and building an organization intentionally structured to sustain success, protect its vision, maintain standards, and scale effectively. Doru understands that distinction.

They have not simply helped us organize a business. They have helped us build the infrastructure for the organization we are becoming.

Joshua King Terry
Global Legacy Capital