Bradley Yates
Founder & CEO
Seacoast Chimney
Office@seacoastchimney.com
+1 (786) 494-2149

May 1st 2026

To whom it may concern,

Doru Angelo and his team at Onyx Elite have been phenomenal in helping my company on multiple occasions. They have played a major role in our success during several important transition phases throughout our business. At times when we were short staffed, under pressure, and moving through one of the busiest seasons we have ever experienced, the Onyx Elite team stepped right in and stepped up to the plate. They quickly became an extension of our company, helping us stay organized, focused, and productive during a critical period.

What impressed me most was how quickly their team was able to come in, learn our industry, understand our operations, identify what needed to be improved, and start executing. They did not need months to figure things out. They listened, asked the right questions, created a plan, and moved with precision.

During this time, Doru helped us implement new systems and strategies that streamlined our operations, improved communication, increased efficiency, and helped us manage growth at a much higher level. Their work had a direct and noticeable impact on our business, including improved processes and increased profit margins.

Onyx Elite also helped us during our largest quarter ever. That kind of growth can be exciting, but it can also expose weaknesses inside a company. Doru and his team helped us stay ahead of the demand, manage the workload, and keep the business moving forward without losing control of the details. Their support gave us the structure and confidence we needed during a very important time.

Doru is professional, strategic, dependable, and highly capable. His team brings a strong combination of business knowledge, operational discipline, and real-world execution. They do not just offer advice, they roll up their sleeves and help create solutions that actually work.
I am extremely grateful for the role Doru Angelo and Onyx Elite have played in our growth and success. I would highly recommend them to any business owner or leadership team looking for a consulting firm that can solve problems, improve systems, support growth, and deliver measurable results.

Sincerely

Bradley Yates

Bradley Yates
+1 (786) 494-2149
Office@seacoastchimney.com